

Fall Colors in Mont. Tremblant - Quebec City - Canyon Sainte-Anne - Montreal

Day 1: Ottawa – Mont. Tremblant

We leave Ottawa at 07:30 in the morning. It takes around half an hour to drive to Gatineau National Park, the best place to see the fall colors in and around Ottawa. We will start our colorful day at the top of Champlain Lookout. It's the most popular view in Gatineau Park, a bird's-eye view from the Gatineau Hills over the Ottawa Valley. Then we will embark on a cruise for 50 minutes on the lovely Lac des Sables in Saint-Agathe along a shoreline of 12km where the sights include a splendid view of 7 islands and beautiful houses dating back to 1890's. We will then visit Mont-Tremblant village, regardless of the season we will be delighted by its breathtaking nature, its lively ambience and the variety of its activities and events. Discover a wonderful view as we ride the panoramic gondola to the summit of Tremblant where a wide range of facilities and activities await us, once up there we will be standing at the top of the 12-metre high 360 observation tower. At 18:00pm we will leave for Montreal and arrive in Montreal around 19:40pm.

Day 2: Montreal - Quebec City

Leaving Montreal in the morning at 8:00 AM, we arrive in Quebec City at noon. We start our tour by taking a 90 minutes cruise of Louis Jolliets to enjoy the beauty of the St. Lawrence River. From the river, you will have so different view of the oldest city in the north of America. After the romantic cruise, Observatoire de la Capitale will be our next stop; we will discover the magnificent view of the capital and its surrounding areas. Then we make our way to the Historic District of Old Quebec, the only fortified city in Canada. We spend the rest of the day sightseeing and shopping in the charming city, exploring such historical treasures as the Battlefields Park, the Quebec Parliament, Chateau Frontenac, Place d'Armes, and the Citadel. After dinner we will check in hotel at 8:30 PM.

Day 3: Canyon - Montmorency Falls - Montreal - Ottawa

Leaving our hotel at 8:00 AM, we will visit Canyon Sainte-Anne first, a spectacular canyon carved out by the Sainte-Anne-du-Nord River and highlighted by the 242-foot Sainte-Anne Falls. We continue our exploration of Quebec's amazing water resources by visiting Montmorency Falls, a 272-foot waterfall that trumps even the famous Niagara Falls by 98 feet. From the top of the falls, we enjoy a sprawling view of the expansive St. Lawrence River. Then we make a two-hour drive to Montreal, a modern metropolis with a distinctly European flair. After lunch in downtown we will visit the Olympic Stadium and Biodome, featuring an exhibition of the diverse ecosystems of the Americas. We will continue to visit the old Montreal, old port and Montreal Notre-Dame Church. We conclude our day by visiting the largest church in North America: Saint Joseph's Oratory, situated at the top of Mount Royal, it also affords us an aerial view of the entire city. At around 6:30 PM, we will leave Montreal for home. We will be in Ottawa around at 9:00 PM.
